The Hypersomnia Foundation is pleased to announce our new research award program. We will be offering idiopathic hypersomnia (IH) research funding to support medical students, physician residents and fellows, postdoctoral fellows, and other researchers. Applications are accepted on a rolling basis to support various projects, and awards of $1,000-$5,000, on average, will be made (along with honorable mentions). Awardees will be expected to produce a written summary of their findings at the conclusion of the funding period. The Hypersomnia Foundation is hopeful that these research awards will help to unlock the mysteries of IH.

For more information and to apply: hypersomniafoundation.org/research-award-program
Help Research Hypersomnias
The Hypersomnia Foundation is proud to partner with CoRDS (Coordination of Rare Diseases at Sanford), on a hypersomnia-specific patient registry. As of August 2018, we have nearly 1300 respondents in our registry. Please help unravel the mysteries of hypersomnia by encouraging your patients to add their information now. Our registry is for all persons with idiopathic hypersomnia (IH), narcolepsy, Kleine-Levin syndrome, hypersomnia due to a medical condition, and hypersomnia associated with a psychiatric condition. And any researcher can apply to use the data. Find out more today, and link to us, at:

hypersomniafoundation.org/registry

About Us
The Hypersomnia Foundation is a 501(c)(3) nonprofit organization. Our mission is to improve the lives of people with idiopathic hypersomnia and related disorders by advocating on their behalf, providing support, educating the public and healthcare professionals, raising awareness, and funding research into effective treatments, better diagnostic tools, and, ultimately, a cure for these debilitating conditions.